

Plan Number	7/23	08	2009
-------------	------	----	------

Study Plan for Master Degree

In Psychology

(Thesis Track)

A. GENERAL RULES AND CONDITIONS:

1. This plan conforms to the regulations of the general frame of the program of graduate studies.
2. Specialties allowed to enroll in this plan:
Holders of the Bachelor's Degree in psychology and other related areas.

B. SPECIAL CONDITIONS:

None.

C. THE PLAN:

1. Obligatory Courses (18) Credits hour:

Course No.	Course Title	Credits
2307720	Research Methods in psychology	3
2307731	Learning and Cognition (2)	3
2307733	Psychopathology	3
2307750	Human Development (2)	3
2307760	Social Psychology (2)	3
2307773	Clinical Neuropsychology	3

2. Elective Courses (6) Credits hour:

1- Clinical Track

Course No.	Course Title	Credits	Weekly Hours
			Lecture	Practicum
2307781	Clinical Assessment and Diagnosis	3	1	8
2307782	Methods of Psychotherapy	3	1	8

2- Organizational and Social Psychology Track

Course No.	Course Title	Credits	Weekly Hours
			Lecture	Practicum
2307761	Psychology and Work	3	1	8
2307784	Applied Social Psychology	3	1	8

Theses : 9 hours ( 2307799) .

Course Description

- 2307720      Research Methods In Psychology      (3 crd)
Covers research methods applied to psychological research including experimental, quasi-experimental and correlation methods. The limitations of each method is emphasized and statistical techniques applied in data analysis are covered.
- 2307731      Learning and Cognition (2)      (3 crd)
A study of the major theories of learning; classical and operant conditioning, and recent cognitive models, with discussion of related empirical evidence.
- 2307733      Psychology pathology      (3 crd)
the study of mental illness either functional or organic. Causes symptoms, and classification will be studied through the life span, from childhood, adulthood to aging.
- 2307750      Human Development (2)      (3 crd)
A study of the recent theory and research in the various aspects of human development with an emphasis on cultural factor affecting cognitive, language and emotional development across the life span.
- 2307760      Social Psychology (2)      (3 crd)
An in depth study of topics in social cognition, self-perception; social influence; dynamics of interpersonal relations and the significance of social support.
- 2307761      Psychology and Work      (3 crd)
The study of human behavior in work settings and the external/internal variables that correlate with work productivity and satisfaction in these settings.
- 2307773      Clinical Neuropsychology      (3 crd)
The recent scientific studies related to the relationship between brain and human normal and abnormal behavior. Also, it covers disorders, diseases of central nervous system and developmental disorders, syndromes such as amnesia, aphasia, measurement and assessment scales used in this regard will be introduced.
- 2307781      Clinical Assessment and Diagnosis      (3 crd)
The techniques of clinical assessment including clinical interview, diagnostic tests, tools and utilized in clinical health psychology and their applications in relevant fields of psychological services.

2307782 Methods of Psychotherapy (3 crd)

A comparative study of the theoretical background of the various methods of psychotherapy including: psychoanalysis, behavioral, humanistic and cognitive behavioral techniques. The course also deals with recent research investigating the relative effectiveness of these methods.

2307784 Applied Social Psychology (3 crd)

The theories and concepts of values, attitudes, socialization, conflict, change and measurement in the field of social psychology coupled with the recent empirical findings.